

WHAT'S THE NEWS?

Happy February!

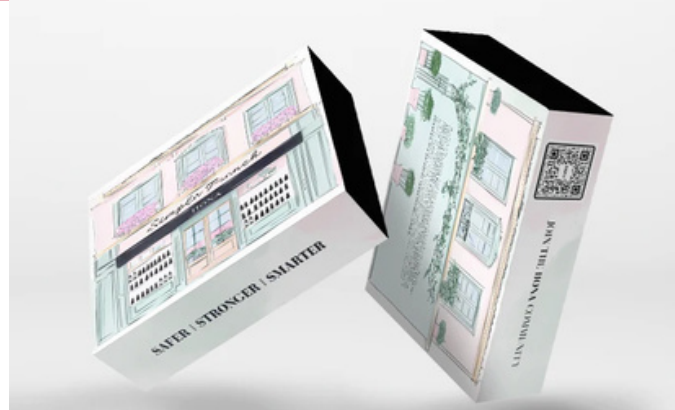

The Nail Nexus has officially been active for a whole month! You might have noticed some changes. I listened to the feedback and the dark, moody background had to go. The Glamourphile website has also had a makeover, and is now bright, light and most importantly easy to read.

With March swiftly approaching, we are eagerly awaiting florals and spring designs. Are you ready?

If this sounds like your thing, then make sure you're part of The Nail Nexus for all the amazing designs coming your way in March.

More fabulous news; in-person e-file training is coming very soon on a 1:1 basis. Even better - the e-files you will be training with are of top quality. Let me give you a sneak peek!

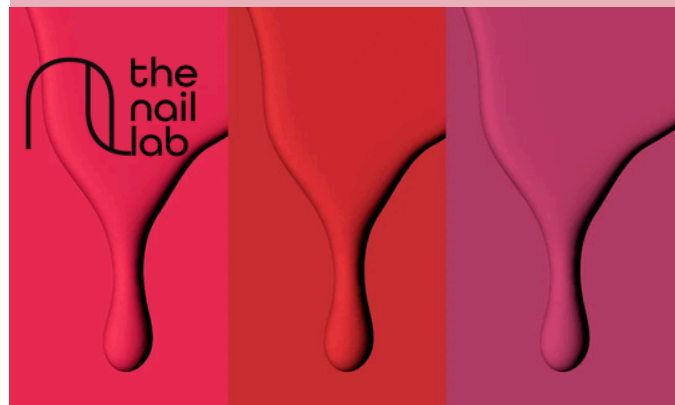

- 0-35,000 RPM
- A brushless, thin hand piece that is both comfortable and light to use with no vibration or sound.
- A play/pause button.
- Can be used on Forward and Reverse.
- Rechargeable. Wireless.
- Available in Rose Gold, Black and White.
- A torque of 4.8n/cm.

HONA has released their best collection yet. 10 beautiful shades, perfect for French manicure or just that clean girl aesthetic.

5 sheer shades and 5 opaque, sure to satisfy your every neutral need.

Amour, Belle, Blossom, Cherie, Filter, French Kiss, Luxe, Rosaline, Swoon and Wisteria.

Looking to try a new nail brand? I have rediscovered The Nail Lab and their Nu:Gel System. The only way I can describe their gels is: silky! The way they move, self-level, the pigmentation... Noteworthy too is that this is across all the gel products, base, builder, hard gel, colour and top. Highly recommended.

Artist Appreciation:

Katie Dutra

@nailsbykatiedutra

<https://www.katiedutra.com>

Katie is not only an incredible YouTube sensation, she's also a dear friend of mine. I knew immediately that I needed her to create one of her eye-catching, trendy designs for The Nail Nexus. Boy, she delivered!

Katie has been in the industry since 2011. She specialises in gel nail products, e-file manicure, and nail art. Her work is absolutely flawless. Her YouTube channel is a great place for any nail enthusiast or professionals looking to unwind. Pick up some tips and tricks or learn a new skill.

If you're looking to up your photography skills to showcase your work in the best light, then check out Katie's 'The Nail Tech Creator Course'. It is fabulous, jam-packed with information and demos.

There isn't enough space in this gazette for me to express my admiration for this incredible woman.
